Delightful Home Talent Entertainment.

Over 100 people availed themselves of the opportunity to enjoy the musicale under the auspices of and for the benefit of the Brightlook Hospital Aid Association, given at Underlyffe last week Tuesday evening. Every number of the program was delightfully given and many encores were responded to.

Vocal solos were rendered by Mrs. Ida P. Brooks, Miss Maude E. Follensby and Messrs. Harlan N. Wood and Harold O. French. The accompanists were Mrs. C. M. Richmond, Mrs. H. N. Wood, Alfred H. Brooks and Miss Alice B. Warden. A double number, which proved a most attractive feature of the concert, was given by a double quartet, composed of Mrs. James Cosgrove, Miss Alice L. Ricker, Mrs. Homer E. Smith, Miss Caddie B. Hamblett, Mrs. C. A. Cranton, Miss Mabel A. Woodside, Mrs. Maud Eklof and Mrs. Robert E. French. Mrs. Lucy M. Brooks read an original paper, paying tribute to the musicians who have been prominent in town from long ago up to the present time, and E. A. Silsby read a selection from Drummond's Habitant and responded to an encore. Piano solos were played by Mrs. C. M. Richmond and Alfred H. Brooks, and violin solos by Miss A. Glenn Robinson. The concert closed with several selections from the fine music box.

Those participating and assisting were pleasantly entertained, after the program, by Mr. and Mrs. Brooks.

RECENT DEATHS.

Mackay.

John Mackay died Thursday forenoon, at the home of his son, E. R. Mackay, after eight days illness of acute bronchitis and heart disease. He was born May 1, 1835, in St. Sylvester, Que., of parents of Scotch descent, being one of ten children, only one of whom now survives. When a young man he went to South Ham, Que., and in 1862 married Mary Jane Thompson of that place. Of this union five sons and one daughter were born, all of whom survive him: George J., of Portland, Me., Charles W., of Berlin, N. H., Dr. Albert J., of Peacham, Edwin R., of St. Johnsbury, J. Stewart of Gorham, N. H., M. Jennie of St. Johnsbury, all of whom with one exception, were with him during the last few days of his life, and administered loving care to the suffering one. Mrs. Mackay died in 1873, and in 1875 he married Agnes Cairns of East Clifton, Que., who survives him. In 1891 he moved to Peacham to live with his son, Edwin R., who a few years previous had come to Vermont. Seven years later he moved with his son onto what is known as the Frye place in Danville, and again in 1904 he moved with his son to St. Johnsbury, where his death took place. He was a home loving man, a kind father, and a loving husband. During his residence in Canada he was for many years an honored and trusted member of the municipal council, and his influence always counted for good in the community in which he lived. Two years ago he united with the Grace Methodist church of this place. Prayers at the home at 10 o'clock Saturday morning were conducted by Rev. J. M. Frost, and the funeral service was held in the vestry of the Congregational church at Peacham at 2.30 in the afternoon, conducted by Rev. J. K. Williams, former pastor of the deceased. Interment immediately followed, in Peacham cemetery. The five sons and one nephew, Alvin Mackay, were the bearers.

The following friends from out of town were present at the funeral: Mr. and Mrs. Byron S. Curtis of Newport, Hollis Cairns of East Clifton, F. Q. John A. Cairns and Leslie Mackay, of Sawyersville, Que., and Arthur Cairns of Hartford, Conn.

Hall.

Col. H. W. Hall, for a long time a resident of St. Johnsbury, died Tuesday morning, April 13, at his home in Burlington at the age of 62 years. On April 3 he suffered a shock and on April 8 he was afflicted with another one. He had been in failing health and had not been actively associated with any business for three years, when he suffered his first shock. He is survived by a wife, a son and two daughters, Henry Everett Hall and Mrs. Carrie M. Clark of Burlington and Mrs. Mabel Sherburne of Guthrie, Oklahoma.

Henry William Hall was born in Portsmouth, N. H., on June 29, 1846, the son of William F. and Mary Ann (Stickney) Hall. He attended the high school in Portsmouth and after working on his home farm found employment in the United States navy yard at Portsmouth. Later he learned the trade of moulder, which he followed for 12 years at St. Johnsbury. In 1875 he took a position with A. L. Bailey and was identified with that interest up to three years ago. In 1877 he opened the store in Burlington, where he conducted a successful business for many years.

Mr. Hall was a member of the board of aldermen for four years, 1892-6, and was president of the board during 1894-5. In 1894 he was appointed an aide-de-camp on the staff of Gov. U. A. Woodbury, with the rank of colonel. He was a member of Washington Lodge, F. & A. M., and was also a prominent member of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows. After filling various offices with the Odd Fellows he was elected to represent his state in the Sovereign Grand Lodge. He was also president of the board of trustees of the Odd Fellows Home in Ludlow and president of the Burlington Business Men's association. He was also a member of the Champlain Lodge, Knights of Pythias, the Vermont Society of Sons of the American Revolution and of the Algonquin club.

Forsaith.

The death of Mrs. F. T. Forsaith on Saturday afternoon came as a shock to her family and friends, as she had been rallying from a three weeks' illness from the grip, and for the past few days had been able to sit up for a short time. On Friday she was taken very suddenly worse and did not rally again. Martha J. Morrill was born in Ryegate, December 6, 1851, and on May 26, 1872, was married at St. Johnsbury to Mr. Forsaith then a resident of Barton. After leaving Barton they lived in North Troy and Concord, before moving here about seven years ago. For over two years Mrs. Forsaith has been in frail health, from a complication of Bright's disease and heart trouble. Besides her husband she is survived by her mother, Mrs. William Morrill, who has been with her the past winter; and by four brothers and one sister: C. F. Morrill of Bradford, William Morrill of Manchester, N. H., F. Ezra Morrill and H. B. Morrill of Jacksonville, Florida, and Mrs. Catherine A. Pratt of Providence, R. I. The funeral was held from her home yesterday morning at 11 o'clock, her pastor, Rev. J. M. Frost, officiating, and the burial took place at East St. Johnsbury. Mrs. Forsaith was a member of Grace Methodist church, and of the ladies' society connected with that church, and in her home and the work of the church her greatest interests centered.

Hazen.

News was received last week of the death on Wednesday, at Melrose, Mass., of L. Tracy Hazen, youngest brother of Mrs. H. C. Newell, of this place. Mr. Hazen was a former resident of Barnet, and later owned and managed a stock farm in Whitefield, retiring from active work four years ago. He was in his 73d year and had been ill for over a year with paralysis. He leaves one brother, L. D. Hazen, now of Brookline, Mass., and his sister here, besides two daughters and two sons, three of whom graduated from St. Johnsbury Academy. They are Frank J. Hazen of Gilt Edge, Montana, Mrs. Frances Woolson of Springfield, John D. Hazen, teacher of music in The Castle at Tarrytown, N. Y., and Mrs. Grace Mason of Melrose, Mass., where he was living at the time of his death. The funeral was held at Springfield, Sunday, where the burial took place.

Taylor.

Word was received here yesterday morning of the death in Waterbury on Monday, of Mrs. Charles Grosvenor Taylor, mother of George H. Taylor of this place. She went there a little over a year ago owing to ill health, and her death was caused by pneumonia. Lucy Ann Hartwell was born in Colebrook, N. H., April 12, 1835, and in 1856 was married to Mr. Taylor at Hillsboro, N. H. They came here to reside in 1881, and Mr. Taylor died in 1895. She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. William Daley of Salem, Mass., and Mrs. J. F. Robie of West Somerville, Mass., also by a half-sister, Mrs. Adelbert Ellis, of Canaan, N. H., and a half-brother, Burton E. Hartwell, who resides in Virginia. She is also survived by one son, George H. Taylor, with whom she has made her home of late years. One daughter, Grace, died when about 20 years old, and three children died in infancy. Mrs. Taylor's remains were brought here from Waterbury yesterday afternoon, and the funeral will be held from her son's home this afternoon at 2.30.

Marcotte.

Mary Brousseau, widow of George Marcotte, died Sunday at St. Johnsbury Hospital after a few weeks' illness. She was born in St. Johnsbury, December 12, 1832, and had always lived here. She is survived by two sons, Fred of St. Johnsbury, with whom she had resided most of the time since the death of her husband 15 years ago, and William of

Springfield, Mass., a daughter, Mrs. Flora Tufts of Togus, Maine, three brothers, Fred Brousseau of Springfield, Mass., Peter, of Rutland, and Joseph, in Canada, and one sister, Mrs. Emily Cormier of Hartford, Ct. The funeral was held Tuesday morning, at Notre Dame church, Rev. A. Dame officiating.

Don't Take My Word For It But Investigate.

You remember my motto as above? In the past year I have settled several policies of Fire Insurance, written on a five year term, on Dwellings and House-hold Goods, making the Net cost as follows:

$500.00, cost, $3.25. $600.00, cost $3.70. $1,000.00, cost $5.00. $1,500.00, cost $6.75. $2,000.00, cost $9.00, etc., etc.

Look up your own policies and see what it has cost you? Possibly it has cost you just twice as much. In many cases I will wager "Dollars to Doughnuts" it has. Investigate my claim, I have figures to show for it that are guaranteed correct. If not proven satisfactory to you, I will pay you well for your trouble.
